Community Information Sessions on Bundaberg Sugar's Proposed Developments

Bundaberg Sugar has scheduled two Community Information Sessions for early November and invites the local community and other interested parties to meet with the company and its project team about plans for a residential development at Moore Park Beach and sand extraction at Whymere on the Fairymead Farm.

The first session will be for the Moore Park Beach development and will be held on Friday 13 November from 5.30pm – 7.30pm at the Moore Park Community Hall on Club Avenue, Moore Park Beach.

The second session will be for the Whymere sand extraction and will be held on Saturday 14 November from 10am – 2pm at the Bundaberg North State High School Hall on Marks Street, Bundaberg.

Specific notifications, and invitations to nearby residents, will be issued for both events within the next few weeks.

Bundaberg Sugar General Manager Administration, Mr Rod Young, said the company was aware of recent matters raised in relation to both projects, and was committed to quality, sensitively designed projects which addressed environmental and social issues.

"We invite the community to attend either or both of these information sessions and meet with the company and members of its project team to discuss any questions they might have," Mr Young said.
